Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Poems and Essays: Including Address to Ocean, the Great Question, C The only apology which can be given for presenting to the public a book possessing no higher degree of literary merit than this little volume can claim, may be briefly stated. The articles were prepared by the writer during a season of confinement to her room from physical infirmities; and as these difficulties still continue in a considerable degree, thereby rendering her incapable of much exertion, they, together with the loss of property and bereavement of friends, may commend her to the sympathy of others. The desire to do good by the dissemination of pious thoughts, even though they may not be expressed in an elegant style of language, is a strong reason in the mind of the writer for wishing the articles published. We know that a vast amount of good is done by the popular method of writing, namely: by well arranged stories conveying lessons of piety and propriety in all things. But how often it is, after beholding, as it were,...
